The Horn Endowment

Ernest Horn Elementary

Ernest Horn Elementary opened its doors in 1969. Horn is named after Dr. Ernest Horn who, from 1915 until 1952, was a Professor of Education at the University of Iowa. He was instrumental in the formation of the University of Iowa Laboratory School which served students from Kindergarten through grade twelve. Dr. Horn's research was in the area of spelling and many consider him the "Father of Spelling Research". Throughout his career he was known nationally for his work with John Dewey and for his research and contributions to the field of spelling.

What is the Endowment?

The Horn Endowment was established in 20__ to strengthen the school's financial reserves and provide lasting security for the school while preparing for the future needs of teachers and students.

Donations to the Endowment Fund will be used to purchase gifts and provide educational and professional opportunities for Horn Elementary School students and Staff.

Gifts to the Endowment Fund will be permanently invested in accordance with the Iowa City Community School District (ICCS) Foundation investment policy. The goal for the Horn Endowment Fund is to provide income from a long-term investment which can be utilized for educational needs at Horn Elementary.

Mission Statement

To establish and maintain the Horn Endowment Fund to provide long-term investment, which can be utilized for educational needs at Horn Elementary School.

How Your Gift Helps

Each year the Iowa City Community School District Foundation provides Horn with a recommended amount available for use based on investment performance.
